

Tokyo Metropolitan Building Examination Committee

The Tokyo Metropolitan Building Examination Committee was established to fulfill functions such as consenting to permits granted under the Building Standards Act, and rendering judgment on requests for review, a system where owners or other parties can petition for a redress of grievances concerning building certification and other matters.